

Solarplate Printmaking

Sitka, 20 x 16 mixed media & solarplate, Dan Welden

4-day workshop
with Dan Welden
May 22-25, 2023

Peconic Press
7134 Indian Neck Lane
Peconic, NY 11958

Explore the techniques of creating etchings with Solarplates. Work with drawing and gesture to capture fresh marks and further develop, combine with the excitement of color and the discipline of etching. Creative synergy and surprise will ensue... All while drawing inspiration from the glorious surroundings of Peconic Bay.

Some experience with printmaking is recommended.

Arrive 9:30am May 22; 5pm welcome gathering that evening.
Monday to Thursday, May 22- 25; workdays: 9:30am – 4:30 pm
Fixings for a make-your-own lunch are provided.
Discussion & critique at the end of the day.

$600 workshop cost includes materials (except paper and plates), and 4 lunches. 6 minimum, 8 maximum participants. Local restaurants abound for other dinners. Accommodations available at local B&Bs and Inns; See Wendy for suggestions.

COVID protocol: double & boosted vaccination and negative antigen home test required.

Contact Wendy and/or Dan for details
wendyprellwitz@gmail.com 617-448-3605
dan@solarplate.com 631-804-0721

About Peconic Press

This marks the third year of workshops held at artist Wendy Prellwitz' studio on the beautiful North Fork of Long Island, once inhabited by artists Edith & Henry Prellwitz, (Wendy's great-grandparents) who were part of the Peconic Art Colony. Situated on a bluff, the original 1911 painting studio overlooks Peconic Bay, with ample space for printmaking and an American Tool French press.

Historic residence next door, Studio, & view of Peconic bay